!!! FREE GASOLINE !!!

ROYALTY MEMBERS Mama Luigi's 500 Gallon Gas Giveaway

With rising gas prices and Americans having to choose between what activities to enjoy based on how much gasoline they can afford, I thought I might make your decision on where to eat a little easier by providing the gasoline to get here. I'm going to start with 500 gallons and at about $3.50 a gallon, that comes to over $1700.00 in gasoline I'll be giving away! I ordered 500 one gallon gasoline cans like the one in the picture above and was ready to start filling them up with gas when my wife Victoria said "Are you insane !!! You can't have 500 gallons of gasoline lying around a restaurant. Do you want to blow us all up to kingdom come!" She may have a point there. So on with plan B.

1. You come in for dinner.
(feel free to bring your friends and family)
2. I give you a shiny new "empty" gasoline can and $3.50 off your bill (it's probably safer this way)
3. You enter our "Tank Full" drawing for 1 of ten $50.00 gas cards and I'll be "tankfull" you came in for dinner and I didn't burn the place down!
(for current royalty members only, can be used with one other offer)

The Winning Project From The Duct Tape Contest

Robert Bond of Bridgeview is the winner of the Fathers month duct tape contest in June. As you can plainly see he made a beautiful pennant necklace and diamond ring with the jewelers box topped with a bow. All made with duct tape. Congratulations Robert. The runner up is Louis Kole of Oak Lawn. Robert wins dinner once a month for a year and Louis wins a dinner for two.

Thanks For All The Kind Words!

Quote taken from Southtown Newspaper cover story on Toyota Park, Bridgeview Stadium, home of the Chicago Fire Soccer Team.

"The Italian cuisine is the best in Chicagoland," said Bill Green, director of special projects for the village of Bridgeview, where he and his wife, Fran, live.

Need a Great Gift?

Mama Luigi's personalized gift certificates raced out of the door in December but we want you to remember that they are available all year long.

The perfect gift for anyone - it can be used for lunch, dinner, takeout and delivery or special events dinners. Call 708-496-0900 or pick one up at the host stand the next time that you are here!

Lower Your Blood Pressure By Eating and Drinking!

A new study suggests that drinking alcohol apart from meals contributes to high blood pressure. Researchers at the University at Buffalo studied 2,609 men and women and found that those drinking mostly without eating showed a significant increase in hypertension compared with either lifetime abstainers or those who usually drink while eating. There was no difference in risk based on the type of alcohol consumed, or the gender of drinkers. So the next time you raise a glass, be sure to have a plate of food in front of you.

Do I Have Your Permission To Be Totally Honest And Open With You?

Ever called upon to critique someone's work? Christopher Meeks, an English professor at Santa Monica College, offers these guidelines to giving a fair review:

1. Begin with what you like about the work and then offer comments to foster improvement. For example, "Here are the project's strengths - keep these. Here are some weaknesses - let's work on these."
2. Talk about the most important areas first.
3. Be as brief as possible and don't nitpick.
4. Remember that criticism refers to the work not the person. "The report is weak," is acceptable. "You write weak reports," is not.
